The Speakers

Andrew Nimmo

Director, Lahz Nimmo Architects

Andrew Nimmo is an architect with extensive experience in project delivery and the resolution and of architectural concepts through innovative detailing to built reality. Andrew graduated from the University of Queensland with Honours.

Prior to establishing Lahz Nimmo Architects in 1994, Andrew had spent four years as a senior project architect in the firm Tonkin Zulaikha Architects. During this time he was Project Architect for several significant projects, including the Memorial to the Australian Vietnam Forces, The Rocks Square Development and the Macarthur Street Affordable Housing project. All of these projects have received awards, including the Walter Burley Griffin Award for Civic Design from the RAIA for The Rocks Square Development.

Andrew maintains a special interest in architectural criticism and journalism and is a regular contributor to several architectural journals such as Architecture Australia. He also maintains a special interest in environmentally sustainable design and has undertaken several projects specifically associated with this agenda.

Andrew has delivered numerous professional lectures, most recently he spoke at the 2007 RAIA National Architecture Conference at the Departure Lounge in Melbourne.
